"I worked with Mike and Jules of House of 8 Media for the first time several weeks ago, as they created a video for one of Sunset Center's events. The results were beautiful, professional, and had real wow factor. Our patrons were blown away by the film, which showcased our 2017-2018 performance season lineup. In addition, House of 8 was lovely to work with—friendly and warm, and highly effective in communication, workflow, and time management. I would recommend their services in a heartbeat. 5 Stars!"

"Michael Buffo started out as a friend, and transitioned into a videographer shooting a documentary inside the Salinas Valley Prison for our group, The Freedom Within Prison Project. I was impressed with his contractual acumen, the ease at which he guided us into the development of a 1 minute commercial, a 5 minute home page video, and a 10 minute mini-documentary. His camera operation in a sensitive environment, a level 4 state prison, Michael being a "one-man crew", and coaching us through the film-envisioning process as well as his interviewing of the warden was excellent. I felt at ease and trusted his decisions in obtaining the shots we needed for our film, and was appreciative that his respect and care led our inmates to feel welcomed and at ease during the filming."

"I really enjoyed working with Michael Buffo and the house of 8 media team over the last couple of years. Michael is one of those trustworthy, high quality, high integrity people who is humble, yet ripe with information. He made my IndieGoGo video, my product informational videos and my e-learning course. He always produces a high quality product and provides excellent coaching. Working with Michael has been a joy and I always feel a sense of trust and ease with him, as though I have a friend who will take care of me and my business for life."

"The House of 8 Media team and Mike Buffo can't be beat. I have worked with him for a year and he is professional, talented, experienced and a pleasure to work with. They provide constructive input when on a 'shoot' looking for the best possible ways to tell a story through video. Mike provides creative and unique ideas that enhance the video during his editing sessions – all leading up to the achieving the best possible results. The final product he delivers to the television stations always receives an "A" from those stations and the media. I can't wait to use them again and again."
